

The Leche Trust Data Protection and Privacy Policy

The Leche Trust is registered under the Data Protection Act 1998 (Ref.A1067079) and complies with its provisions.

To assess applications and review our grants, we need to store and process the information sent by applicants. The data submitted is held securely and is lawfully processed. Data is also used to compile lists of organisations in receipt of grants which are made publicly available.

The Leche Trustees may also share the information sent to them with their advisers and may also, from time to time, share details of awards made with other grant makers.

Applicants and their institutions are deemed to have given consent to the Leche Trustees to process data related to applications and share this information upon submission of an application form.